3.1 Abolish the 5/4 work schedule and either return to the 4/4 fixed shift or a shift that more closely matches patrol staffing to workload. 3.3 Upgrade the position of watch commander from lieutenant to captain to coordinate the various units from different commands working in the evening and night hours. This should not occur until the promotional system has changed, as explained in Chapter Eight, Human Resources Management.

Police Response: Concur with recommendation and feel that this will strongly increase the management of critical service delivery by having a higher level of authority in this role at all times (24/7).

Status: Will require three (3) new Captain's positions. Two (2) positions will be available due to the civilianization of two (2) current Captain's positions. Assigned for job analysis.

City Manager Response: Concur with Police response. Budget & Evaluation has been directed to conduct a cost analysis of this position. Based on the results of the cost analysis, a recommendation will be made to either add a new position to the Police Department or transfer an existing position to fill this requirement for the third Captain.

5.6 Reduce the regular daily meetings of supervisors in the Criminal Investigations Division to one day a week, until and at such time as the squads work in one facility.

Police Response:

Status:

City Manager Response:

5.7 Review the benefits of maintaining all detectives under a central command. One option is to centralize the investigations of murder, rape, robbery, juvenile and motor vehicle crimes at one facility, while residential and property crimes would be decentralized to patrol stations. This option is based on the Department utilizing crime analysts in operational crime analysis with daily information communicated at roll calls. The City involvement is required because of spatial needs. The chief of police should make the final determination.

Police Response:

Status:

City Manager Response:

5.8 Fund at least one full-time position to handle Internet child predator issues in 2008, assign the officer to the special victims unit and expand the staffing to two positions in 2010. (Currently a detective is assigned from an existing squad to the function.)
